I am a high achieving web designer-developer who is able to create flawless, attractive and functional user interfaces, responsive layouts and branded media. I love the craft required to create the best product solutions. My skills integrate well with team members in technical, customer-facing and leadership roles thanks to a good process understanding. My workflow is detail-oriented, self-starting and use an iterative method to surpass goals in a timely fashion.

- The Banner Warehouse — 2017–Present

API Integrations Specialist at a printing company in Southampton. By integrating the company websites with WorldPay, Barclays, PayPal and more we are able to achieve percentage point savings on every transaction.

- Freelance UI Designer, Web Designer and Graphic Designer — 2012–Present

4 Restaurant Ordering Websites in the South. In London I worked with several bands to produce tour media, website experiences, and CD covers, and App start-ups to create beautiful and delightful mobile and desktop experiences.

- TweetDeck, Twitter — May 2010–December 2011

In London I worked with a small team to create a world-class web application, Android mobile application and iOS application. We were purchased in an epic sale for the Tech sector in Britain, by the Californian company.

- Freelance Concept Artist and Storyboarder — 2003–Present

At Codemasters the British video games company, at HMX Media the Soho advertising agency, and for independent creatives in Oxford, pencil drawings became new multimedia intellectual properties.
